[1] Andrew Cole online research of the named social media sources.

For books, used the British Library, US National Library of Education, the University of Oxford Library, Amazon.com/Books and Google.com/Books then cross referenced and de-duplicated. Categorisation of books into topics by Andrew Cole. Based on the dominant topic (either the full book was read or its abstract, the contents index or a publication review article). In the few cases where none of these were available, used the title as a guide or defaulted to "general" category.
